#IMC2022 - Synthesizing Mountains of Knowledge

Registration March 28th - May 13th (Early Bird until April 25th)

During the last weeks, #IMC2022 conveners were intensively working on the reviews. Overall, 808 abstracts were accepted for oral or poster presentations and a few are still under review. We thank all conveners and submitting authors for their contributions and are now glad to reach a further step towards #IMC2022: Registration. The price policy tries to slightly weaken imbalances and everyone can benefit from reduced fees until April 25th.

Poster presentations at #IMC2022

To facilitate a smooth progress of the sessions and to benefit from the "fresh-air-presentation-option" (outdoor poster exhibition) again available at #IMC2022, several contributions have been accepted as posters. This means that authors will have an oral slot for introducing their research at the poster in their session and that their poster will be displayed during the entire conference period. Poster format will be DIN A0 portrait, details will be published soon.

Registration open - 88 applicants for S4SSS

The Student for Student summer school received more than 70 submissions whereas most have been accepted by the conveners recently and registration is open. Several sessions and workshops of the summer school have been revised to optimally fit the received contributions. Together with the conveners, currently 88 PhD students want to be part of the S4SSS team whereas travel grant requests of 28 applicants will be processed and decided soon.

Events and Sustainability

We meanwhile have designed the frame of the #IMC2022 excursion and dinner. Sustainability and authenticity were the most important factors for both events and we are very glad to again have strong local partners. Sustainability and in particular, mitigation of emissions, is of course important for the entire conference and we will come up with incentives for sustainable traveling soon. >> #IMC22 Events <<

Outlook for your personal planning

Once the registration period is completed, we will be able to start scheduling the sessions. From today's perspective, a preliminary program should be available by mid of June. While this might be early enough to book your traveling to and from Innsbruck, we recommend you to reserve your accommodation already before. Some options are listed here but there is of course much more available.

FEEDBACK APPRECIATED
